

As the UK car parc now averages 10 years old, we're taking a look back at the model that was leading the way a decade ago. The seventh-generation Vauxhall/Opel Astra, crowned European Car of the Year in 2016, marked a major step forward for the brand. With an all-new design and a weight reduction of around 200 kg compared to its predecessor, it delivered improved efficiency across the range. It also introduced a newly developed 1-litre, three cylinder petrol engine, setting a fresh benchmark for compact performance.
